It's Monday. So Let's Get On The Ball, Okay?

May 18, 2009

cleaner promo? At least James Dyson had the balls to manufacture a new kind of vacuum. Avoiding blue balls is the objective of this game, and just to show that we have a pair, here's Red Ball, a simple physics-based game which, for no reason we can ascertain, "moos" when you fail. Don't be cowed. We made it to level 11 pretty easily, if you want the password (just hover here). We've probably driven most readers away with that last round of puns by now, but please, sphere not. Before you get your balls in a sling with Sling Jumper, you can draw the line with Scriball. And you'll probably never get to the bottom of things with GyroBall, but if you do, you can bounce back with Bouncy-Ball. See you round!
